Raines, Cadwalader, House

Macon, Bibb County, Georgia

Owner: Dr. G. T. Miller.Date of Erection: 1848.Present Condition: Good. Front porch, steps and front door changed, porcelain knobs on all doors replaced by bronze.Number of Stories: Two stories over high basement. Stair hall three stories high forming octagonal cupola.Materials of Construction: Foundation brick, wood floors, exterior walls frame, low gable roof.Other Existing Records: Macon Telegraph, March 11, 1928, by Mary Callaway Jones (Mrs. Frank F.). Copy of original photograph made by Metro Studio, Cherry Street, Macon.Additional Data: Built by Cadwalader Raines, -(later called Cadwell). Former owners were Raines, then Jones, then Cox. The front porch has been changed; originally it broke back following line of walls making three sides of an internal octagon. This house has an unusual plan forming a cross with equal arms and octagonal stair and entrance hall in center, and with porches between each arm of the cross. A spiral stair-case carries up to attic. Restoration, changing the aspect of the original building, include changes in front porch and the woodwork of the central hall. Central plaster ceiling ornament in color at attic ceiling above central stair-hall.
